Rooms at her father's residence U. Sandusky April 2, 1868 ly LECCER HEADS and Envelope DON'T STAY TOO LATE TO-NIGHT.

The hearth of home is beaming, With rays of rosy light: And loving eyes are gleaming, As falls the shade of night: And while thy steps are leaving That circle pure and bright, A tender voice, half grieving, Says, "don't stay late to-night."

The world in which thou movest, Is busy, brave and wide: Is at the ingle side; She waits for thy warm greeting; Thy smile is her delight, Her gentle voice entreating, Says, "don't stay late to-night."

The world, cold, inhumen, Will spurn thee, if thou fall; The love of one pure woman Outlasts and shames them all: Thy children will cling 'round thee, Let fate be dark or bright; At home no shaft can wound thee, Then, "don't stay late to-night."

TO LITTLE VIRGILINE GRIFFIN. BY GEO D PRENTICE.

You are a charming little sprite, A thing of love and lov and light, You're full of sweetness and of grace: Sweet is your name, more sweet your face, So you shall be our baby queen, Oh, dearest little Virgiline.

That in the early spring-time blows; You're sweeter than the violet When its young leaves with dews are wet; Your very sighs more sweet by half Ti an any other baby's laugh: Your counterpart was never seen, Oh, darling little Virgiline.

Wi'l find all kinds of Glass, Locks, Hinges, In the deep silence of the night, Should I awake from visions bright Latches, Screws, Sash, Pulleys, &c., &c., at he Hardware Store of HALE & KIRBY. And see a form before me rise. Like that which gladdens row my eyes. Oh I should think it was a fair And blessed angel of the air A being sent down from the skies Today my tears, to hush my sighs. And to-ward the v sion I would lean

> Within the dark depths of your eyes As in the blue denths of the skies, I gaze with eestasy, and lo! Bright winged things flit to and fro. Fre your life's bud has bust to flower, What will you be at sweet sixteen; Canst tell me baby Virgiline?

"A Cow GIVES RICHER MILE WHEN FAT THAN WHEN POOR."-Such is one of the conclusions arrived at by Mr. Clarke, from his experiment. (see Agriculturist for 1 December, '68) There are fat cows U . that give poor milk and not much of it. In fact this is one reason why they get fat .- The food goes to form flesh and fat instead of cheese and butter. The trouble is in the cow and not in her condition. It she was poor in flesh, she would give no more or richer milk, and FURNITURE! and yet there are farmers who think otherwise. If a cow is fat they conclude she is a poor milker-and there is some truth in the idea. If ordinary food, she is a poor milker, himself. or else she gives poor milk So far the popular notion is correct. But cow because she is fat. If she is to give large quantities of rich milk she must be fat. It is a monstrous
